

VeganNews.com.au

Australia's number one source of vegan news, recipes and inspiration. Trending topics in plant based living.

OMG Vegan feta PLUS cracker snack packs coming to a store near you!

My Life, the Aussie creators of Bio Cheese, have announced plans to extend their product range to include vegan feta and dairy-free cracker snack packs.

The Australian brand has reported a growing demand for dairy-free alternatives, and currently produces a popular line of coconut-based butter and cheeses.

“We really wanted to spice things up with this latest product”, the My Life team stated. “Our Bio Cheese Feta offers a great tasting, authentic Mediterranean experience.

“With a simple crumbling of Bio Cheese Feta on top of salads, pizzas, fruit or cooked vegetables, or through dips and pastries, you can delight in the quintessential Mediterranean lifestyle.

“We know that this flavoursome, creamy number will hit the spot for all consumers”.

Meanwhile, the new Bio Cheese Cheddar and Cracker Snack Pack will offer a gluten and dairy free solution to the afternoon munchies.

“Like our Bio Cheese product, it was important that the cracker we found to pair was just as flavourful and clean”, a statement from My Life read.

Vegan shoppers can grab their snack packs at Coles stores nationwide, from Saturday 8th September.

Bio Cheese Feta will be available at all Woolworths stores, starting this Wednesday 5th September.

Will you be trying these latest products from My Life Bio Cheese? Tell us in the comments below: